HBF: Todd Bracher and Kevin Stark

HBF garnered five Best of Neo-Con awards. Led by Kevin Stark, HNI's vice president of design, the company launched many new products to be proud of. Mr. Stark's Carlyle Seating line exudes a re-fined sense of elegance. The Andaz seating line by Todd Bracher got our attention with light fluid lines, material diversity and functional stackability.

The Cheval Table and Bench Collection, designed by Wout Speyers from Holland, is a multi-functional bench seating and table system with a spare, sculptural wood base and saddle-like leather design features. Classically beautiful, it's destined for public spaces, muse-ums, airports and a wide variety of other commercial applications.

The Parker Table by Travis Clifton offers a range of material choices for the inset top, which is sleek, elegant and unsullied by power bays. Electrical access is tucked taste- fully away, below on the supporting beam. This versatile table can be used in conference rooms, as an occasional table, console and coffee table.

HBF Textiles, displayed with the flavor of a French atelier, were eloquent. Erin Ruby's new textile collection featured innovative weaves and yarn combinations, combined with pulling in innovative natural materials (such as Cork Cloth). Inspirational fashion photos and fabrics draped on tall wooden racks lent an authentic feel to the new branding and refreshed line of classics.

Mockett at the Mart?

Yes, indeed! On floor seven, Mockett's oversized space showed examples of their many pop-up power and charging options. From wildly playful to discreet, it was interesting to see what was new and innovative, and to try out the various options available.

Across the street from the Merchandise Mart, Kimball Office and Studio O+A teamed up to create a living labo-
